"LIBERTY AND UNION—NOW AND FOREVER—ONE AND INSEPARABLE."—Webster.

VOL. 2.

QUINCY, PLUMAS COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, AUGUST 20, 1864.

NO. 43.

OUR PRESIDENT.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN knows the ropes!
Let us help him as we can,
Ho! the men,
Honest for the country through and through.
Others good, perhaps, as he
There may be;
Have we tried them in the war-time flame?
Do we know if they will stand,
Heart in hand,
Seeking for the Right in Heaven's name?
Let the Nation ask him, then,
Once again
To hold the rudder in this stormy sea.
Tell him that each sleepless night,
Dark to light,
Ushers in a morning for the Free.
Let us not forget our rude
Gratitude!
But lend our servant the poor crown we may!
Give him four more years of toil,
Task and toil;
Trusting God shall crown him in His day!
—N. Y. Independent.

WAR INCIDENT.—A correspondent with the Army of the Potomac gives the following incident that actually occurred: I have seen soldiers chase hares and pick blackberries when a shower of the leaden messengers of death were falling thick and fast around them, and do many other cool and foolish things. But the following, which took place at Mine Run, surpasses everything I remember to have seen or heard. On one of those biting cold mornings, while the armies of Meade and Lee were staring at each other across the little rivulet known as Mine Run, where moments appeared to be hours and hours days, so near at hand seemed the deadly strife, a solitary sheep leisurely walked along the Run on the rebel side. A rebel vidette fired and killed the sheep, and dropping his gun advanced to remove the prize. In an instant he was covered by a gun in the hands of a Federal vidette, who said, "Divide the word, or you are a dead Johnny." This proposition was assented to, and there, between the two skirmish lines, Mr. Rebel skinned the sheep, took one-half, and moved back to his post, while his challenger in turn dropped his gun, crossed the run, got the other half of the sheep, and again resumed the duties of his post amid the cheers of his comrades, who expected to help him eat it. Of the hundreds of hostile men arrayed against each other, on the bank of that Run, not one dared to violate the truth agreed upon by these two soldiers.

OLD ABE'S LAST.—The Washington correspondent of the Kansas City Journal has the following version of the President's latest joke. Senator Henderson presented to him two gentlemen from each delegation. Said he, "Mr. President, here are two Charcoals and two Claybanks." Old Abe received them laughing, and said: "Well, they've always had me between hawk and buzzard. If I attempted to please the Charcoals, the Claybanks were down on me; and if I showed the Claybanks any favor, the Charcoals got their backs up. It kept me in the condition of Governor Reynolds' old sow. The Governor had lost a favorite old sow, and after waiting in vain for her to come up, he resolved to go and hunt for her. Proceeding through the woods along a creek, he saw where the sow had been rooting around quite recently. After a while, crossing to the other side, he discovered that she had been there too, and apparently just as lately. In vain did he cross with much labor and several duckings from side to side, the indications of the sow's presence were equally fresh. He went home got his boys and returned. Said he, "Now, boys, you go on this side and I'll take the other, for hang me if I don't believe the infernal old sow is rooting on both sides of this creek at once."

QUEER ANIMALS IN WASHOE.—Some prospectors who have been through the greater part of the Goose Creek range of mountains, report having seen in a large valley hundreds of small animals resembling Guinea pigs. We suggested prairie dogs, but they swear they are no more like prairie dogs than a coyote is like a giraffe, and maintain that they are a stunted species of the porcine quadruped, and withal excellent eating having a pork taste. [Enterprise.]

INCENDIARISM.—The recent fires in Virginia City are thought to be the work of incendiaries, who set fire to the buildings for the sake of plunder. The citizens have offered a reward of $2,000 for evidence to convict any one of incendiarism.

A YANKEE HOTEL IN DIXIE.—When Gen. Banks' army moved on up the Shenandoah Valley from New Market, Quartermaster Sergeant Reuben W. Oliver, of Cochran's New York battery, had to be temporarily left in a barn on account of injuries he had received. Soon after our departure he made application at the lady's house adjoining for board, but he was informed in true Virginia style, that she did not board "Yankee barbarians."

"Very well," replied Oliver. "If you won't board me, I shall keep a hotel in your barn, but shall probably call upon you occasionally for supplies;" and he hobbled back to the barn. Oliver was every inch a soldier, and he went to work at once. Taking a revolver, he shot madam's finest young porker, which his assistant speedily dressed. His able assistant next went to the apiary and "took up" a hive of bees, and transferred the honey to the barn; he then went to the lot and milked a pail of milk from her ladyship's cows; then going to her servant's house, he made a "requisition" for a quantity of fresh corn dodgers that had been prepared for the supper. The addition of these articles to his ordinary rations placed him far beyond the point of starvation. True to his Yankee instincts, he invited the lady to take tea with him, at the hotel across the way, at which she became spitefully indignant; but Oliver was as happy as a lark, and for the time almost forgot his injuries. Soon he had several sick soldiers added to his list of boarders; and in due time a sheep and a second hive of bees were gathered under the roof of his "hotel;" and furthermore, not a cock remained to proclaim when the morning dawned. By this time, her ladyship thought she "could see it," and sent for Oliver, who, as promptly as the nature of his injuries would permit, reported at her door.

"See here young man," said she, "I perceive that it would be cheaper for me to board you in my house; and if you will accept it, you can have board and a room free."

"Thank you, madam, thank you," replied Oliver, removing his cap and bowing politely, "but I prefer boarding at a first class Yankee hotel to stopping at any seesh house in Virginia at the same price. You will, therefore, be so kind as to excuse me for declining your generous offer, as it comes too late;" and back he hobbled to the barn, and actually remained there for two weeks, taking in and boarding every sick and straggling soldier that came along, making frequent "requisitions" upon her for supplies.

Her ladyship was mightily pleased when Oliver's Yankee hotel was discontinued; but it learned her a valuable lesson, and no Yankee ever thereafter applied to her in vain for food and shelter. They always got what they wanted, she evidently not relishing the Yankee hotel system.

CHOICE OF A VOCATION.—The Newburyport Herald advertised for a clerk for a grocer. In twenty-four hours the advertiser came rushing into the office to have the advertisement taken out. He was so over-run with applicants that he could not attend to business. In the same paper, at the same time, a mechanic, practising one of the best of trades, advertised for an apprentice. Not a boy sought the place! Twenty-seven youngsters wanted to retail sugar, etc., to find themselves, when of age, without capital wherewith to set up for themselves. But no youth desired a trade that would make him independent for life, and the knowledge of which would be a fortune in itself. A weak regard for appearances, and a dislike of manual labor were stronger than a manly ambition to be able to stand and go alone. This is the inference.

FANNY FERN SAYS.—and she knows—"It is a great plague to be a woman. I think I've said that before, but it will bear repeating. Now the wharves are a great passion of mine; I like to sit on a pile of boards there, with my boots dangling over the water, and listen to the far off heave ho' of the sailors, in their bright specks of red shirts, and see the vessels unload, with their foreign fruits, and dream away a delicious hour, imagining the places they came from; and I like to climb up the sides of ships, and poke round generally, just where Mrs. Grundy would lay her irritating hand on my arm and exclaim: 'What will people think?'"

STRONG MINDED.—A square-headed woman with a fixed, rather hard, but not unkindly face, wearing spectacles, short petticoats, scant crinoline, if any, carrying an umbrella and a roll of papers—is she not a British Museumite, and one familiar with the printer's devil?—a practical, strong minded, clear-brained authoress, ready for any work, and with energy enough for any vocation, and with half a hundred missions; of which, however, womanly subserviency or submission does not form one. As she sits there, with her strongly-marked features and her watchful eyes that see everything, yet are not of the quick and roving kind, rather wide and steady, I can read her history too, like the rest, perhaps more clearly than she can read mine, though I meet her big grey eyes fixed on me, and know that I am being photographed for future use. One thing I see, which has no business there, and that is a wedding ring on her left hand. Her husband, poor man! has a hardish time of it, be sure; for those deep dints in the forehead between the eyes, and the furrow from the nostril to the mouth, and the look of pain and experience and the unrest of a battle always going on and never ended, are not eloquent of rose-leaves and elder-down; and I fear that my literary friends matrimonial possessors may at times find a strong-minded woman, making her due share of the family income, rather more of a helpmate than a sweetheart. And yet she is not bad. When women will leave off exaggerating good qualities, they will have achieved a more thorough freedom than even the most emancipated dream of; and that is, freedom from the tyranny of their own weaknesses.—[All the Year Round.]

THE BIGGEST BABY.—What is the reason of the singular passion that mothers seem to have for enormous babies. From the delight and triumph with which a ten pound baby is exhibited, one would imagine that babies, like Chinese wives, were valued according to their weight. It makes a modest woman, whose baby weighs only six or seven pounds, feel a certain kind of mortification, as if she had failed in her duty in some way. In fact, to be admired it has become necessary for a baby in some sort to be a monster. It must have a very large head, or a quantity of unnatural hair, or a development of intelligence totally at variance with all received ideas of babyhood, or limbs, which give promise of a young Hercules, or a premature beard to elicit exclamations of wonder, surprise and pleasure, which are so gratifying to maternal instincts. A simply plump round, rosy baby, who knows just enough to attend exclusively to its particular baby business of eating and sleeping, and does both well, is not half fast enough for this fast age—it finds no special favor in any but its mother's eyes until long afterward, when it is found that the baby faculty of doing everything well and at the right time, clings to it and makes it a useful and valuable, as well as pleasant member of the family and of society.—[Jennie June.]

CROESUS AND HIS WEALTH.—CROESUS flourished about the middle of the sixth century B. C. The prodigious wealth which he had inherited had been increased by the tribute of conquered nations, by the confiscation of great estates, and by the golden sands of Pactolus. Perhaps some idea of the extent of his wealth may be formed from the rich votive offerings which he is known to have deposited in the temples of the gods. Herodotus himself saw the ingots of solid gold, six palms long, three broad, and one deep, which, to the number of one hundred and seventeen, were laid up in the treasury at Delphi. He also saw, in various parts of Greece, the following offerings—all in gold—which had been deposited in the temples by the same opulent man: A figure of a lion, probably of the natural size, a winebowl of about the same weight as the lion, probably; a lustal vase; a statue of a female, said to be Croesus' baking woman, four and one-half feet high; a shield and a spear; a number of pillars; and a second shield in a different place from the first, and of greater size.—[Commercial Anecdotes.]

"GRAMMAR CLASS, stand up and recite Tom, parse girls." Papil—"Girls is a particular noun, of the lovely gender, lively person, and double number, kissing mood, in the immediate tense, and in the expectation case to matrimony, according to general rule."

THE BRAVERY OF OUR TROOPS.—The London Times of June 10, in an article on the American war, says: "There is hardly a 'regular' battalion in the whole of the numerous hosts which are contending with such unparalleled ferocity and resolution. The 'veterans' who are occasionally spoken of cannot by possibility be soldiers of more than three years standing. Our own volunteers are older than the oldest troops under Gen. Grant or Lee. There is not a regiment in either camp which was raised before the spring of 1861; for, the number of the small regular army almost vanished in the mass, and it has never been found practicable to give it any material increase of strength. The whole of this dreadful fighting has been done by volunteers, and volunteers without as much training as our own riflemen. Yet these raw companies, without professional spirit or regimental traditions, with captains snatched from the counter of the store, and with generals who were attorneys a few months ago, are fighting with as much heroism and obstinacy as Napoleon's Guard or Germany's bravest warriors! There may be a little science in the business, but of all that makes soldiers there is as much as in any war of which we read."

A REMARKABLE DOG.—A gentleman of this city tells of the wonderful performances of a dog now on a ranch down at Walker's River, and formerly belonging to Mr. Seawell of this city. He is an excellent watch, and his faithfulness and sagacity have made him a great favorite with all hands. He will go out alone and bring home game; will carry articles and messages to and from where the men are at work and the house; wake them up in the morning, and do many other things of a like character.—His mode of arousing a man from sleep is very good. He will tug at the bed clothes, but not tear them, gently nibble the sleeper's toes, and move his hands. If all this fails, the dog will place his head under that of the man, and up he comes. The most remarkable thing he does, perhaps, is to catch fish, at which he is an expert. A stream of water runs through the premises, which contains fish. The dog takes his position on the edge of the bank, or in the stream which is of clear water, and when the fish comes along he seizes it, and soon has the finny specimen on dry land. He is the only dog we know that will catch fish.—[Aurora Times.]

THE ADAMS HOME AT QUINCY.—The old mansion of John Quincy Adams is now owned by his son, Charles Francis Adams, the present minister to England, and when at home he occupies it. His son, young John Quincy Adams, a very gentlemanly fellow, now occupies it, and has for a wife a beautifully and accomplished Boston lady, a Miss Crowning-shield, whose kind treatment of us and our party we shall never forget. When we visited the house we were shown through it, and into the study, and to the old chair and writing desk of the "old man eloquent." Mr. and Mrs. Adams expressed their kind regards for us, and said they were pleased to have a visit from a man who was for John Quincy Adams in 1828 in preference to General Jackson. The paintings of the Adams family, of Washington and his lady, of Gen. Warren and Josiah Quincy, still living, and of others who have passed away, interested us very much.—[Parsen Brownlow.]

"THE OLDEST INHABITANT."—The Gettysburg (Pa.) Star says: "Levi Osborn, of Straban township, has brought to our office a terrapin, which has lived on his plantation for a period of ninety-four years—according to the initials and date carved on the shell. It bears the initials 'M. T. 1770.' It has frequently been picked up during the last eighty years by Osborn, and by his father before him, who first settled on the place, and is known to be the same identical terrapin. It has always been found nearly on the same spot—never wandering more than a distance of a few acres from the place. Speaking of terrapins, Governor Andrews, of Massachusetts, has received one from Hilton Head, weighing three hundred and fifty-two pounds."

AN IRISHMAN caught a hornet in his hand, but dropped it and exclaimed, "Be jabbers! what kind of teeth do your birds have in Ameriky?"

The best adhesive label you can put on your baggage is to stick to it yourself.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Our friends everywhere, who may at any time have knowledge of facts of local importance—in accidents, accidents, mining news, doings at public meetings, improvements, curiosities, etc.—would confer a favor upon us and our readers generally by sending notice of the same to this office. Give us facts in any shape, and we will take care of them.

LIFE IN LONDON.—The city of London now covers an area of 120 square miles, and contains a population of about three million souls. It is stated in a late report of the registrar general that its population has increased since 1860 at the rate of a thousand per week. It far surpasses any other city on the face of the earth in wealth, and, alas, it may be added,—in human misery also. The registrar general records the lamentable fact that one in six of those who leave the world die in the public institutions,—workhouses, hospitals, asylums, or prisons. Nearly one in eleven of the deaths are in the workhouse. Every sixth person dies a pauper or a criminal. And how great a number barely manage to escape this fate. The severe competition for subsistence and wealth which characterizes London life is a terrible trial for any human being to pass through.—Cities are centers of great temptations, in which many persons sink every year from wealth to poverty, by a love of display beyond their incomes. Others again are tempted still deeper, and forsake the paths of virtue for those of vice. It is related that of the 8,000 convicts in institutions near London, 1000 were born in affluence and had received a classical education. Allured by the vice of gambling in attending sportive scenes, they squandered their patrimony, and being tempted committed crime, thus sinking to the degraded condition of felons. London has always been an alluring city to provincial youth. Goldsmith declared that in his day thousands died there yearly from broken hearts, stricken by poverty; and to-day similar scenes are witnessed and like sorrows experienced there.

SCRAPS OF SCIENCE.—One of the most wonderful achievements of astronomers is the weighing of the bodies comprising the solar system. The mass of the sun is 359,551 times greater than that of the earth and moon, and 700 times greater than the united masses of all the planets.

A flash of lightning on the earth would be visible on the moon in a second and a quarter; on the sun in eight minutes; on Jupiter, (when furthest from us) in 25 minutes; on Uranus, in two hours; on Neptune in four hours and a quarter; on the star Vega, of the first magnitude, in 4,000 years; yet such stars are visible through the telescope! La Place, the great French astronomer, says:—"I have ascertained that between the heavenly bodies all attractions are transmitted with a velocity, which, if it be not infinite, surpasses several thousand times the velocity of light." His annotator estimates that speed as being eight millions of times greater than that of light.

The circumference of the earth is 25,000 miles. A train traveling incessantly night and day at the rate of 25 miles an hour, would require six weeks to go around it. A tunnel through the earth from England to New Zealand, would be nearly eight thousand miles long.

The dark races of men have less nervous sensibility than the whites. They are not subject to nervous diseases; they sleep sound when sick; nor does any mental disturbance keep them awake. They bear surgical operations much better than white people.

ADVICE TO A YOUNG LAWYER.—The following is the advice of an examining Judge to a young lawyer on admission: "Sir, it would be idle to trouble you further. You are perfect; and I will dismiss you with a few words of advice, which you will do well to follow. You will find it laid down as a maxim of civil law, never to kiss the maid when you can kiss the mistress. Carry out this principle sir, and you are safe. Never say 'boo' to a goose when she has the power to lay golden eggs. Let your face be long, your bills longer. Never put your hand in your pocket when anybody else's hand. Keep your conscience for your own private use and don't trouble it with other men's matters.—Plaster the Judge, and butter the Jury. But, above all, get money; honestly, if you can, my dear sir, but get money. I welcome you to the bar."

DIVORCE.—Mrs. Mary Said commenced a suit for a divorce from her husband B. Said, in the Probate Court yesterday. Thus the world goes; the young men and women trying to get united and the old ones doing their best to get asunder.

IGNORANCE and conceit are two of the worst qualities to combat. It is easier to dispute with a statesman than with a blockhead.

LOCAL ITEMS.

OWNER WANTED.—See notice, under the head of Estray, in another column.

At Work.—Several men are at work upon the Honey Lake and Indian Valley Wagon Road.

THANKS.—To "BYRNS," of the Coburn House, for a liberal supply of Havanna, "de. de."

FENCE.—Messrs. Root & Kinsle have taken the contract for building the fence to inclose the Plaza.

ROAD MEETING.—The proceedings of the Indian Valley Road Co.'s Meeting is published in another column.

PREMIUM LIST.—The Premium List of the Co. Agricultural Society, for the year 1894, will be published next week.

SURVEYOR.—J. J. L. Peel, Esq., County Surveyor, has appointed Mr. J. C. Church, of this valley, as his Deputy.

Pay Up.—Persons, knowing themselves to be indebted to this office for job work, advertising, etc., would confer a favor by settling their accounts.

DR. CAREFUL.—Parties who have occasion to build fires in the woods, or by the road side, should be very careful and see that the fire is extinguished before leaving it.

CHICKS.—The dull times (awful, dull, too!) give our citizens, who are that way inclined, a fine opportunity to play chess. Some of them are quite proficient in the game.

EXPRESS OFFICE.—The office of Whiting & Co.'s Express has been removed to the West Room in the Coburn House, two doors east of C. T. Kaul, back of the store.

CRESCENT CO.—This company has been taking out rich rock during the past two weeks. We are not informed as to the exact amount realized from crushing.

RACE.—Owners of "racing stock" are notified that there will be three days' racing over the American Valley Course, during the Fall Fair. Several purses will be offered.

PAYING.—Some of the river claims, on the North Fork, are paying as high as $20 per day to the hand. Cummings & Co., on Dutch Hill, cleaned up over $700, for one week's work.

DR. TREASURER.—A. S. Tins, Esq., has received the appointment of Dep. Treasurer of this county, and will attend to the business of the Treasurer's office during the absence of the Treasurer.

GORE CR.—The case of Taylor vs. Harvey, et al., which was tried in the Justice's Court, of A. J. Gifford, and judgment rendered in favor of the Plaintiff, has been appealed, and will be tried in the County Court.

DISCHARGED.—C. Cameron, who has been confined in our County Jail, for the past thirty days, was discharged on Thursday last, his time of sentence having expired. Our jail is now without an occupant.

NO PROXIES.—We learn that all of the gentlemen, with one exception, who were elected as delegates to the Union State Convention, from this county, will attend the Convention in person and not by proxy.

QUARTZ COMPANY.—We learn that the owners of the Crescent Extension Quartz Ledge will soon commence work upon their ledge, and if the "indications" warrant it, a company is ready to put up a mill, and crush the rock on shares.

NEW TRAIL.—During the past two weeks, the citizens of Rush Creek have completed a new trail, leading from Holmes' Hole, on Rush Creek, to Soda Bar. The distance between the two places is about one mile and a half less, than by the old trail over the hill, and the grade is not as steep.

SINGULAR.—A few days since, we saw a curiosity, in the shape of a double egg. The egg was a very large one, being six and three-quarter inches by seven and three-quarter inches in size, and upon breaking it, a set of eggs was found inside, perfect in shape and shell.

CREEL.—On Tuesday last, Mr. Wm. Myers, of this valley, discovered that one of his horses, which had been running out on the ranch, had one of his legs broken. Upon an examination, it was found that the horse had been shot, and the act was intentional, there is no punishment too severe for the guilty party.

CONTRACT LET.—The Board of Supervisors, of Lassen county, advertised some time since, that proposals would be received, and the contract let for building a jail for Lassen county. At the last meeting of the Board, the contract was given to Messrs. Giddings & Thompson, for the sum of $8,000. The jail is to be built of stone, walls, two feet thick, size of building, thirty-six by forty feet. The location of the building is near the bluff, a short distance from Susanville.

RICH QUARTZ.—Mr. Bachler, of the East Branch, has presented us with some specimens of quartz, taken from the Yellow Jacket ledge, in Indian Valley. The ledge was discovered about thirty years ago, and from the specimens before us, we should judge that the owners of the ledge could "pound out" their "consists" in a short time. The rock will assay over $1,000 to the ton. The company is at work sinking a shaft upon the ledge, and at the depth of twenty feet the ledge is about twenty-four inches wide. It proves to be a genuine ledge, a mill will be put up to crush the rock, in a short time.

ABOUT 100 MEN ONLY are needed to fill the six military companies of Nevada Territory. The volunteers can either go to Salt Lake, remain at Fort Churchill, or scout about Honey Lake. (Ex.)

DIVORCE GRANTED.—In the Probate Court yesterday, Mary Said obtained a divorce from her husband, Bartlett Said, on the ground of extreme cruelty. (Reese River Reveille.)

REWARD OFFERED.—Governor Low offers a reward of $500 for the arrest of each of the band of robbers who murdered officer Joseph M. Staples, of the county of El Dorado, June 1st, 1894.

MRS. WELLER is allowed by General McDowell to visit her husband at Alcatraz as often as it pleases her to do so.

SANITARY.—The Sanitary Committee, having charge of the funds raised at the late lecture by Dr. Bellows, in Marysville, in aid of the Sanitary Fund, have completed collections and report the total receipts at $2,745 27.

TREASURER'S AND AUDITOR'S REPORT For the Quarter ending June 30, 1894. To the Board of Supervisors, Plumas Co., California:

Probate Notice.

In the Probate Court.

State of California.

County of Plumas.

In the matter of the Estate of T. C. PERDUM.

Noticed.

IT APPEARING TO THE JUDGE OF THE Probate Court by the petition presented and filed by James H. Bunker, Administrator of the Estate of the deceased T. C. Perdum, deceased, praying for an order to sell the real estate of said deceased, and that it is necessary to sell the whole of said real estate at this time, subject to sale, to pay outstanding claims against the estate, and the debts, charges and expenses of administration.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in the said estate, do appear before the said Probate Court on Saturday, the 27th day of August, A. D. 1894, at 10 o'clock A. M., of said day, at the Court room of said Probate Court, in the Court House at Quincy, County of Plumas and State of California, to show cause why the said real estate should not be sold, and to be heard by the said Judge of the said Probate Court, and to be subject to the order of the said Judge of the said Probate Court.

It is further ordered, that a copy of this order be published in some newspaper published in the County of Plumas, for three consecutive weeks, ending on the 20th day of August, A. D. 1894.

Attest, this 20th day of July, A. D. 1894.

A. P. MOORE, County Judge.

Ex-Officio Judge of Probate Court, in and for Plumas County, California.

Dated at Quincy, this 20th day of July, A. D. 1894.

The Quincy Union.

PHRENOLOGICAL Character of Mr. Mark Millberry, Esq., given at the office of Professor Josh Billings, Praktikal Phrenologia. Price $1:

Amativeness—Big, sticks out like a hornet's nest. You ought to be able to lay the hole humin famile with yure bump at onst. Yu will never be a widerer long not any.

Politics—Yu hev got it the natural wa. A splendid bump. It feels like a democratic bump too. Menny men has got to be constables with haf yure bump.

Kombativeness—Sliteually, very much. Yu mite fite a woman, but tuff match I should like tu bet on the woman. This bump wants poultisin.

Vittles—Bi thunder, what a bump! I should think yu could eat a hoss and cart, and chase the driver three miles without eny praktis. Let Barnum git his hand on this bump and yure fortin iz maid. What a bump!

Musik—A sweet pretty bump—about the size of a Lima bean. If I had this bump I would buy me a juice harp and wander in the Rocky Mountains. Pon my honor Mr. Millberry, my advice is, uuss this bump.

Greenbacks—Well developed. A gorgeous bump. A fortin tu eny man Yu kant help but die rich if this bump don't go back on yu. Gorgeous bump! happy man! Die when you feel like it, deth won't hev eny sorrows for yure relations that this bump won't heel.

AN AGREEABLE CUSTOMER—"Stranger, I want to leave my dog in this 'ere office till the boat starts; I'm afraid somebody will steal him."

"You can't do it," said the clerk;

"Well, stranger, that's cruel; but you're both dispositioned alike, and he's kinder company for you."

"Take him out," roared the clerk.

"Well, stranger, I don't think you're honest, and you want watching. Here, Dragon," he said to the dog, "sit down here, and watch 'that fellow sharp," and, turning on his heel, said, "Put him out, stranger, if he's troublesome."

The dog lay there till the boat started, watching and growling at every movement of the clerk, who gave him the better half of the office.

The foundation stone of a Roman Catholic Cathedral was recently laid at Canton. The French, Prussian, Spanish American, and English consuls were present at the ceremony, which was a grand affair, the most conspicuous actor in it after the bishop, being Mao, the newly appointed viceroy of the province. The cathedral is to be erected at the expense of the French Emperor, and it is mentioned as worthy of note, that the ground on which it will stand was formerly occupied by the residence of the notorious Yeh, who died in Calcutta some time back.

An Irish beggar recently made his appearance at the United States Hotel, when the landlord said to him:

"Why don't you go to work? A large hearty man like you should not be seen begging."

He said he could not find any work.

"Well, then, enter the army. There you get $400 bounty, besides $12 a month and found."

"Found," replied Pat, "Yes, be jabers, found dead on the battle-field."

A young man about seventeen years of age was visiting the Cave of the Winds, at Niagara Falls, and in defiance of the warning given insisted on stepping upon a rock out of the path usually taken. Almost as he touched the rock his foot slipped and he was swept into the dark depths below. His body has not been recovered.

"I say, Sambo, can you answer dis conundrum? Suppose I gib you a bottle of whisky corked—shut wid a cork—how would you get de whisky out widout pullin' de cork or breakin' de bottle?" "I gibs dat up."—"Why push de cork in—yah! yah!"

A DUTCHMAN, being called upon to give a toast, said: "Here ish to de heroes what fit, fled, and died at the battle of Bull Run—of which I ish one."

A SHREWD little fellow, who had just begun to read Latin, astonished the master by the following translation: Vir, a man—gin, a trap—Virginia, a man-trap.

Why is the last Parrot gun manufactured by the Government called the "Whisperer?" Because it is intended for Jeff Davis' private ears (privateers).

A question by a lawyer to a "rough" in court—"Did you strike the officer in his official capacity?" "Rough—" "Not much. I slogged him in the jaw!"

On a bank bill recently passed at Portland, was the indorsement: "The last of $10,000, all lost at the faro bank, Federal street, Portland, Maine."

Three things important to one who desires to keep his friends, namely—to give much, ask little, and to take nothing.
